The Church of All Souls, A large and fashionable congregation assembled yes terday morning at the Unitarian edifice corner of Fourth avenue and Twentieth street, known in popular parlance usual littarraical service of the Unitarians-n litany palians. Having recited the usual morning invocation coupled with "cantilation," to use a Hebrew metapher, of pealms and other sacred songs, the offimetapher, of pealins and ether sacred songs, the officiality of chryyman read a selection of texts from the Proverts of Solomon; after which followed a second invocation and the singing of a hymn in duet. These services concluded, the reverend gentleman announced as the text of his discourse a verse of the wise sayings of Solomon, viz.—"A merry heart dooth good like medicine; but a broken spirit drieth up the bowles." The general thesis of the sermon, drawn out by way of exercical comment, lesson and explanation from the text in hand, may be stated in brief as the enforcing of the duty of the religionist to maintain proper pleasantness of temper and hopefulness of disposition. By way of exordium the speaker proceeded with a somewhal critical explanation of the verse quoted. The meaning of the verse was, argued the speaker, that a merry heart did good in the place of medicine, or was equivalent thereto. It was well known that many forms of disease were peculiarly exaggerated in symptom by moroseness and despondency of disposition; while pleasantness, soperfulzess and complasance that an opposite tendency. There was a sort of sympathy between the mental and physical man, which could not be too carefully regarded, since it was the pivot upon which many a bodily aliment revolved. There was, however, a just distinction to be observed between pleasantness and hopefulness of disposition, both of which were in everyday life matters of simple duty, and that mordinale meriment and laughter which the Bible everywhere condemned as an element of exceeding weakness of mind. It was said in another passage that the laughter of fools was a the cracking of thorns under a pot mere sound, without sense or reason—the simple cracking of there were many persons who knew no better, and even the pleasantness of mind. It was said in another passage that the laughter of fools was preferable to the moroseness which some people affected as an element of piety. The morose person made himself diengrees the tool like the cracking of there was

THE PRESBYTERIANS

Calvary Church, Williamsburg. Last evening the Rev. Hugh Brown preached a sermon is the Calvary Preshyterian church, Fifth street, corner of North Fifth, Williamsburg, from a part of the "And my people shall be filled with my goodness, saith the Lord." The reverend gentleman commenced his the Lord." The reverend gentleman commenced his discourse by remarking how beautiful and pleasant it was to dwell in the love of God. His wisdem and power filted us with awe. Goodness was an essential preperty of the divine nature, God alone was truly good, and it was his defight and glory to do good. He provided for the wants of every living thing and supplied all their need. He showed goodness is the protection of his people. When ruis apparently threatened the church, good invariably resulted. The case of Jacob, Joseph and the man that fell among thieves was brought forward as abowing the wonderful goodness of God in hours of darkness and suffering. He pitied the sinner, and provided the plan of redemption in sending Jesus to die for sinners. Who could picture God's feetings when He saw His Son suffering and praving that if possible the bitter cup might pass from Hua. What hieselings are procured to man by the death of Jesus i justification, adoption, regeneration, holiness, peace and everiasing redemption. The agency of the Holy Ghost now essential to regeneration and conversion. Sweedly and gently the Holy Ghost inclined the soul to praver. The Spirit of God passed ever the community, and sinners trembted and were prostrated at the feet of Christ. But the storm passed away, the clouds dispersed and all was changed. The magnitude and stabused contents as well as our spiritual wants.

Anniversary of the John Street M. E. Church The one hundred and first anniversary of this churc ceremonies. In the morning the sacrament was admin after which Bishop Janes delivered an eloquent address upon the eccenty of good works as an expression of faith. Taking his text from Matthew, the distinguished divine dwell with great force and peculiar appropriateness upon the importance of men evincing in their lives the faith they bore within them, and of giving practical exemplification of the Gospal teachings they received. He was listened to with much attention by a very large congregation. In the afternoon, at two o'dook, the regular attendants of the church participated in what is known as a love fast, when addresses were delivered by several clergymen who were formerly pastore of the church, and also by some laymen, among others General Fick. They spoke of their labors in the cause of Christian excellence and of the success with which these efforts had been crowned, not alone in that but in other delies of Christian labor, and related many interesting incidents of their religious experience. In the evaning the Rev. D. W. Bartine, D. D., occupied the pulpit and presched a most instructive eermon. Mr. Philip Phillips conducted the singing during the day. after which Bishop Japes delivered an eloquent address

Dedication of Bethesda Chapel. Yesterday afternoon about two hundred friends of the cause of metropolitan evangelization assembled at No. streets, to participate in the impressive and interesting ceremony of opening and consecrating to the service of God the new Bethesda chapel. This much needed place of worship will be devoted to Sabbath school and other religious services, and has been organized under the auspices of the West Fifty-third Street Young Men's Christian Association, in connection with the Fifty-third street Baptist church, which has already emablished a similar branch chapel at Eighty-fourth street, Blooming dale road. The dedicatory exercises were conducted by the Rev. W. H. Pendleton, pastor of the Frity-third street Baptist church, and were of an extremely appropriate character. After some short addresses, interspersed with the singing of a choice selection of Sabbath school and popular livenile hymns, the schools of the Frity-third Street Church antered the building in a body, and through their officers and teachers presented to the chapel a handsome Bible, richly bond of, for pulpit use, and two huntered volumes of celect works, as the nucleus of a back of the though the control of the street of the thought of the chapel as the force of the two controls and two huntered volumes of celect works, as the nucleus of a back of the way of the way has been controlled to the chapel as the control of the way of ourse last evening at his church, on Piftieth street, between Breadway and Eighth avenue, on the evils likely code. Having read the preamble and resolutions rethem as the selfish and unscrupulous emanstion of mer them as the selfish and unscrupulous emanstion of men who, in the avaricious desire to fill their own pockets, would trample upon all reverence for the Sabbath and reopen on that day the sources of vice, wretchedness and profamity. He believes the Excise law was in jeopardy, for political partisans had grafted on their platform a clause siming at its abolition; but when politicians thought more of the votes of men than of God and the interests of religion it is time to lock to the B bie reading portion of the community to exert themselves in the cause of morality. The rum sellers say the Excise law is an invision of their rights. What a mockery of terms! Does not the invasion of rum sellers cost the country $500,000 annually, while it sends sixty thousand rum drinkers to their graves, makes orphans of thousands more, fills our workhouses with raupers, our asylums with lunalies and our streets with prostitutes? Thy say the Excise law interferes with prostitutes? Thy say the Excise law interferes with prostitutes? We allow emigrants to come among us, but it does not follow we are forced to receive and tolerate their vices; and shall these people, who bring on their own land both poverty and oppression, be allowed to come here and break up and deride the laws ago, under the rigime of Fernando Wood, singular to say, a more stringent law was passed acabiset the inquor trailie. When he was Mayor several of these Germans started a new kind of worship. Provoked at the curtainment of their Sunday Boations they amounced themselves ready to embrace the principles of Atheism because Christian ordinances placed a restraint on their sousulity. But why should not this Excise law be continued and enforced usually crowded last evening to witness the impressive ocremony of the ordination of the Rev. J. Lamb by the past seven octors, the Rev. G. W. J. Sload, B. B., occupy-ing the deek. The reverend doctor read a most interest-ing sermon upon the necessity of the heaver co-operating with the preacher, in order that the work of the minister might be of avail. There are, he said, several classes of bearers; in the first place those who listen to the word as uttered from the sanctuary, but regard it criti-cally as evidencing such and such doctrinal conception. Others there are who listen and the word moves them to consisting of symmathetic feeling, but it passes as as cany as evidencing and and such acceptant conception. Others there are who listen and the word moves them to something of sympathetic feeling, but it passes away, leaving no lasting impress; while there are some few who carry with them the teachings they have heard and apply to them the test of scriptural understanding who are benefited and instructed. He dwell with much emphasis upon the importance of men bringing a right mind to the consideration of the truths usered in the pulpit, and the great responsibility resting unon each individual of approaching with proper humility and prayerful mind the sacred office. It was a necessity that the preacher should seek the divine aid in order that his words might be fruitful of beneficial results, and it was equally important that the listence should ask the blessing of beaven to profit by instruction. At the conclusion of this discourse the Rev. Ifr. Lamb stepped forward, and having answered certinu intercogarories put to him by Jr. Sludd, was welcomed to the ministry of Christ by the attendant diergy non. Br. hurray then read an instructive charge, after which the congregation dispersed.

Baldwin, residing on that gentleman's prenises, was awakened from his sleep by the rearing of stance. Barely had he escaped from the house when he found that structure and the extensive dairy of Mr. Baldwin adjoining one mass of sames. The neighbors were summoned, but it was found impossible to extinguish the size. The buildings were situated on the Irvington road, about half a mile beyond the toligate. They consisted of a grain house, barn and the house occupied by the hirsed man. In the harn were thirdeen valuable cows and in the grain house twenty tons of hay, all of which were entirely consumed with the boose. Fortunately, Mr. Baldwin's residence and other buildings connected with the premises were awayed. About forty chickern are missing, and as several were found around on the ground with their necks wring, it is supposed that chicken bleves were at work, and in their haste dropped a light in the hay. The total less is about $2,500, upon which there is no insurance.

A MYSTERY UNRAVELLED. Considerable excitement was occasioned in police disappears not of five little children named Rosenfeldt. whose mother had left them at the Fulton ferry, while she went over to Brooklyn. Captain Thorne, of the Fourth predict, since the "mystery" was announced, has been endeavoring to find out some clue to the whereabouts of the children, and yesterday ascertained that a gentleman, who discovered them to be astray in the street on the day they were missed, had them conveyed to Castle & arden, whence they were sent to the Stakepeare Hosel. Here they were provided for until Friday, when their talter, who resides in Newark; by some means or another learned of their whereabouts and took them homa. A Mr. Folk, of No. 225 East Thirty-third street, who had been made aware of the fact that the mother, with her two remaining children, had been carriedly provided for at headquarters by laspector Disks proceeded to that place on Friday, and had them sent to Nowark of his expense.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

One of the leading features of business in Wall street during the past week was the steady decline in gold from 144 to 14134, notwithshanding so great a scarcity of coin that loans commanded rates as high as 3/4 a 3/4 demand was mainly due to the largely oversold con-dition of the market, nearly all the speculators havthe apparent failure of the movement of the Garibaldians against Rome, and the withdrawal of the French expedition for the defence of the Pope. The forthcoming operations for a fail, by enabling the bears to rely upon an abrindant supply of gold with which to make their clearings, and in loan of it from day to day until the interest payments should be made. These are not due until the 1st of November, but those neavily "short" have brought considerable pressur e to bear upon the Secretary of the Treasury in fav ar of anticipating the payment. It is not such appeals, but pay the coupons at maturity and not before. This disbursement has, however, already been over discounted, and the "short" interest will constithe tender by toward a reaction just now promises to be a resided by this morning's news from Europe to the effect that Garibaldi is marching Ro me, and that the French expeditionary flee at Tout so had sailed for Civita Vecchia, although dulin ess of trade, argravated by the difficulty of cbper git of a revival of the export demand at present, and, the shipments of specie and bullion during the orders have been received here to rejevest considerable amounts of it in five-twenties, which will be remitted which this is done the demand for foreign bills on account of the interest payment will be diminished.

The closing quotation on Saturday was 141% a 141%, and the daily range of the market during the week

pect of affairs in Europe and a partial recovery from the Saturday it took a sharp upward turn and closed strong and exceted, the demand being chiefly for the five-twenand in which the "short" interest is particularly heavy. Sales of the former were reported late in with the progress of which the Garibaldi news for there is nothing in the present aspect of foreign affairs to excite distrust in connection with United States securities, and these are still the cheapest investments in Wall street. The following were the quotations at three o'clock yesterlay:—Registered, 1881, 111% a 112; coupon, 1881, 112% a 112%; 5-20's, registered, 1862 114½ a 114½; 5-20% cupon, 1862, 113½ a 113½; 5-20%, coupon, 1964, 109½ a 109½; 5-20%, coupon, 1865, 110½ a 110½; do do, January and July, 107½ a 107%; 5 20's, coupon, 1867, 107% a 107%; 10 40's, registered, 100% a 100%; 10-40's, coupon, 100% a 100%; June, 7-20's, 105% a 105%; Juny 7-30's, 105% a 105%; December compounds, 1864, 118¼ a 119; Мау do , 1865, 117¼; a 117¼; August do, do., 116¾ a 116½; September do. do., 115% a 116; October do. do., 115% a 116%.
The conversions of seven-thirty notes into five-twenties during the week amounted to $7,622,600, of which $1,117.850 were made on Saturday.

The market fer foreign exchange experienced a partial recovery from the depression which prevailed towards the close of the previous week, the decline in defer remittances as far as possible, and hence the com-mercial indebtedness of the country b Europe is in-greating at a more rapid rate than usual, while the aggregate is already very large.

Philadelphia, for a large sum, was announced yesterday, and this had probably much to do with the depression in some of the fancies which pravailed in that city on the previous day, and a somewhat exaggerated account of which was telegraphed to this city late in the after-stock exchange corrowers at seven per cent, with trans-actions on Saturday at six per cent on mixed collaterais, while the amount offering at this rate on governments banks, were favorable to an even easier condition of moneter's almars this woek. The latter will show an in-crease of $2,036,111 in legal tender notes and a decrease of $745,493 in loans, $1,157,845 in specie, $93,371 in circulation and $374,247 in deposits. In the discount line there was but little abatement of the stringency proving acource of great embarrasament to the mercantile community. Depositors are complaining of the conduct of their respective banks in refusing the accommodation they have a right to expect and at the same time leaning their funds to stock houses on call. The banks, however, in view of their constrained resources, decline dis-counting, unless to a very limited extent, in favor of way they take at seven per cent, while outside the banks the rate varies from eight to twelve per cent, with considerable (tafficulty in negotiating it. It is to be hoped that the beaks will make special efforts, now that money is easy on call, to extend their discount line not in the form of the discounts of produce paper for the Western ban tis-so much as among the merchants and traders of the welty, for the existing stringency is crippling business and mapiring distruct in all branches of trade. The railway share market was throughout uncetated, and one of its worst features was the decline of the sound dividend paying securities, while some comparatively worthless stocks remained firm. No surer sign of the artificial c baracter of the support it is receiving could be found; that some of the leading buils show a degree of pluck and steady endurance which is deserv-ing of success. At the same time the street shows very from the bull clique t, and very prudently so, for the "sbort" interest. The natural tendency of the market is downward, however, dor the prices of the non-dividend although prospectively they may be worth considerably more, and there is no outelde support to it, while even the street itself is more bearish than builtish. Tempo racily, notwithstanding all this, prices may advance in consequence of the unexpected case in money; but it is a very dangerous market to hold stocks on, and at the same time no prudent man would sell them "short;" and, therefore, we repeat our warning to those who are out of Wall street to remain out of it. The market closed dull and barely steady on Saturday at the subjoined quotations:-New York Central, 112% a 112%; Erie, 72% a 73: Hudson River, 126 a 126%; Reading, 96 a 96%; Michigan Southern, 78% a 79; Cleveland and Pittsburg, 81% a 81%; Rock Jaland, 95% a 95%; Fort
